PUCKSTERS MEET CARABINS TOMORROW; ATHLETICS NIGHT FEATURED IN GYM JUNIORS FETED AT THE PROM TONIGHT;

Basketball, Wrestling, Boxing

Dance To Follow Sports Program Tomorrow

The first of four big Athletic Nights during the College year is taking place tomorrow evening in the Gym. Scheduled to start at 8 p.m., this event will afford students the opportunity of seeing not one, but several intercollegiate teams taking on opponents during the course of the program.

The McGill senior basketball team will be out to avenge their defeat of the last two years at the hands of Clarkson Tech. This team, hailing from Potsdam, N.Y., boasts such stars as Bob Wagner, a rushing guard and Rudy Cragolin, a one handed free shot artist.

Tickets for the Athletics Night are now on sale in all campus buildings at a cost of 75 cents for students and $1.00 for outsiders. The ticket committee is advising all students to buy early since athletic coupons will be required from those students buying tickets at the gate tomorrow night.

Wrestling will also figure on the sports program as the McGill matmen tangle with a team of grapplers from Williams College, Mass. in the east end of the main gym.

Downstairs in the B.W.F. room, the men who take pride in the "noble art of self defence" will meet A.A.U. stars from city clubs. In the squash courts, the McGill racket wielders will vie for honours with a team composed of recent graduates.

In addition to the varied sports being featured in the gym, the McGill senior hockey team will be in action at the Verdun Arena against U. of B. in their first league game of the year. The Red and White Society has chartered special busses to carry students from the hockey game to the gym for the dance. Athletic's coupons will entitle you to free admission to the hockey game, and tickets to the Athletics Night will be good for free transportation on the busses. All those planning to attend the hockey game and use the busses afterwards are requested to sign the lists posted in all the main buildings so that sufficient busses can be provided.

At the conclusion of the athletics portion of the evening's entertainment, the Montreal Escorts will take over the bandstand in the main gym and will provide dance music until midnight.

TICKET WORKERS

B. Ellis, ticket manager for McGill, today stated that rugby ticket sellers and takers will receive their pay at the ticket office at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium Dec. 8th from 10.15 to 11.30 a.m. Tickets for the McGill-U. of M. Hockey game at Verdun on Saturday, Dec. 7th are now on sale in the gym at $1 and $1.50 each at ticket office.

STATEMENT OF VETS EXECUTIVE

The Executive of the Student Veterans Society, after considering the resolutions of the informal group which met yesterday in the Union Ballroom, will call a meeting of the society to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 10, at five o'clock in the Union Ballroom. If a quorum is not then in attendance, special arrangements will be made for nominating and electing delegates to the National Conference.

Candidates for Commerce Representatives to SEC

Gordon Pfeiffer

I would like first of all to thank the Commerce Students, who nominated me to run as their representative to the Students Executive Council.

In presenting my platform, I shall make no commitments, as to any radical changes in campus Administration, as I believe that the present Council is doing a very commendable job, and it would be my intention of continuing the same practice. However, there is one point I would like to state, and that is that I believe that the Students Council should increase their budget for the Red and White Revue. The R. & W. is the greatest show of the year put on by the students, and I think that they should be permitted to see their own show at a reduced price, such as is done at the hockey and football games, as well as the Student Subscriptions Concerts.

If elected, I shall do my utmost in presenting the views of the Commerce Undergraduate Society to the Students Council, and shall attempt to see that they are fully carried out. Being on the C.U.S., I believe myself capable of doing this, and also feel that the experience accumulated by me in my past years at McGill will enable me to execute the responsibilities involved. If defeated, I shall give my whole-hearted cooperation to your representative.

ACTIVITIES:

Jack Ronson

Despite the picture (a rush job) I am serious when I say that, if I become a Member for Commerce of the Students' Executive Council, I will endeavour to be a conscientious, unbiased representative of Commerce Students at McGill and Dawson.

ACTIVITIES

Member McGill Veterans Society. President, Third Year Commerce.

Modern Hostility Subject of Address

Dr. D. Ewen Cameron will speak at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club on Tuesday, December 10th, at 3.15 p.m., in the Ritz Carlton Hotel on, "Hostility in the Modern World". He will expound the hostilities within families, across family lines, within the community, and in the larger fields of life.

Dr. Cameron, Director of the Allan Memorial Institute of Psychiatry, organized the "Lectures on Living" as a means of presenting to the public the latest developments in the social sciences. He organized mental health services in western Manitoba during depression years, and for several years was in charge of the Pioneer Psychiatric Units in Albany, N.Y. Guest tickets, 50c, may be obtained by telephoning Fitzroy 3427.

ROOMS AVAILABLE FOR VETS

Since inserting an add in the Star, the Housing Director has received numerous offers of rooms available at very reasonable rentals. Anyone who wishes to investigate these kindly phone M. Bourke, EL. 2343 on Sat., Dec. 7, between 12 and 2 p.m.

N.F.C.U.S. NEWS

What are you doing at McGill? Getting an education you say? Have you ever thought about what you are getting, and how you are getting it? Some of the answers to these questions are being investigated by the Educational Panel of the local committee of N.F.C.U.S.

The problem is one of the greatest in modern civilization. It may be trite, but it is true that the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow. In studying the problem, we have launched ourselves into a sea of conflicting theories and interests. However we have been able to sort out some problems that are in need of immediate attention. One of these is the question of choosing the correct courses and even more important, the choice of the best way of life.

Today the field of man's knowledge is expanding at such a rate that no one man can comprehend it all, or even hope to be an expert in more than a few branches of this knowledge. How then, is the poor student who knows even less than the expert, to choose what he is to be, and what he should study to become proficient in his chosen field? Add to this the strain of modern life, which is producing an ever-increasing stream of neurotics, and it becomes a marvel, that the majority of students ever grow up to be useful and sane citizens.

Obviously there should be people trained to aid the student. There are methods that exist today with which much of this can be effected. These methods are: the use of the interview by trained personnel, and the mass psychological test. To say that these techniques are too new and not well enough worked out, is to ignore all the use that has been made of them in the last quarter of a century. They have been used very successfully in the armed services, and in educational institutions for many years. The results that they have achieved, more than warrant any expense that they may incur; in fact it is quite probable that they produce an improvement which has financial advantages. This is borne out by the fact that industry, which must show a profit, uses this type of service.

'Escorts' Featured At Dance

Year's First Formal To Start in Gym At 10 O'clock

Tonight the first formal of the year takes place at the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium as the Junior Prom takes over the social stage at McGill. From 10 p.m. on, the Montreal 'Escorts', one of Montreal's leading orchestras, will provide music for the 1,200 patrons, guests, students and friends attending this annual function.

In the background, decorations prepared by Gilles Gagnon and his tireless crew will give a festive atmosphere to the dance.

PHOTOS TO BE TAKEN

Throughout the evening there will be a fixed stand where ABC films will take photographs of couples in attendance. Student photographers will also be passing by the various tables performing the same act.

Among the tuxedos, numerous army, navy and air force uniforms will be sprinkled as permission has been received for veterans of all three services to wear uniforms to the formal.

SUPPER AT MIDNIGHT

Dawson Vets Draft Final Questionnaire

Last evening saw the Questionnaire Committee of the Dawson Student Veterans' Society meet to draft the final form of the questionnaire and to formulate plans for its publication and distribution. The questionnaire which will be issued early next week has been designed to determine the scope of the problems which face veterans at Dawson and will enable the Vets' Society to develop future policies and to plan appropriate action to overcome the difficulties.

Publicity Director 'Red' McRae announced that the Society had enlisted the aid of Professor Forrest La Violette of the sociology department in checking the draft form, and several changes will be made as a result of his professional comment.

The results of the questionnaire will be presented at a General Meeting to be held before the Christmas recess. President Lou Gotthell stated (Continued on Page 6.)

Dr. Cipriani to Speak On Atomic Energy

"What can Canadians expect from their atomic energy plant?" This will be the subject of an address to The Canadian Club of Montreal by Dr. Andre Cipriani on Monday, December 9th, at one o'clock p.m., in the Windsor Hotel.

Dr. Cipriani is Chairman of the Medical Investigations Branch of the Atomic Energy Division of the National Research Council of Canada. In the early years of the war, he was engaged in research work on motion sickness, and the biological effect of acceleration on R.C.A.F. fliers. Dr. Cipriani is a graduate of McGill University in Physics and Medicine.

Tickets, $1.10, will be on sale until Saturday, December 7th, at Bryson's Drug Store, corner Peel and St. Catherine Streets.

Hamilton, Hague Win at McGill Dawson, in Bovey Shield Contest

Hugh Hamilton was the winner of the Montreal section of the Bovey Shield contest for impromptu public speaking, held last night. Elizabeth Parkin was second. Topic for the debate was Resolved that the present system of examinations should be changed.

Kenneth Hague won the Dawson section of the contest. At Dawson eighteen members of the Dawson Discussion and Debating Society spoke at the very well attended meeting.

Both winners opposed the resolution. Hugh Hamilton explained that class tests, which are given during the year, and which do not affect the student's final standing greatly, give him a chance to measure his own progress accurately. The finals, however, enable the professor to grade the student on the whole year's work, and determine whether he deserves to pass or not.

Elizabeth Parkin felt that the present system should be changed.

She was referring to the high school examination system, as she explained that as a freshman she did not have any experience with college examinations. "The final examinations are not a test of a student's knowledge of the year's work, but rather a test of his ability to cram as much as possible in one night", she said.

At Dawson the judges were, Mrs. Cann, Mr. Coyle and Dr. Royd. The McGill judges were, Mr. Max Bernfield, K.C., Miss Lenoir of the French Department, Mr. Hugh Banfill of the Chemistry Department, past president of Bishop's College Debating Society.

Isadore Rosenfeld, president of the McGill Debating Union Society shared the meeting. He expressed the appreciation of McGill undergraduates for the generosity of Col. Wilfred Bovey, who donated the shield for annual competition, amongst people entering McGill for the first time in impromptu debating.

Lack of Quorum Makes Veterans Meeting Unofficial; Plan Another

The presence of thirty more Vets would have transformed yesterday's meeting of the McGill Student Veterans Society into an official general meeting, but lack of a quorum made it unofficial.

Nevertheless the Executive of the Society presented a report of its activities, and the question of the election of three McGill delegates to the National Conference of Student Veterans was discussed. This Conference will be held in Toronto during the Christmas holidays.

Housing Director G. N. Bourke stated that 15 rooms have been obtained for student veterans through an advertisement in the Montreal Star, but that so far only 5 applications had been received. In this connection, a housing statement appears elsewhere in the Daily, telling those wanting rooms where to reply.

Len Starkey, past President of the Veterans Society, suggested that candidates for the McGill delegation should be nominated from the floor, and later voted on in a campus ballot. Outside nominations would also be accepted for the 3-man delegation. Norman Nuremberg proposed that each Vet should vote for three candidates, and that the three with the most votes should make up the delegation. It was further suggested that this election could be held in conjunction with the Arts and Science elections which are to be held shortly. These three suggestions found favor with those present as checked by a show of hands.

Frank Common, chairman of the meeting, called upon Len Starkey, President of N.C.S.V. to address the meeting. The latter outlined the work of last year's Conference and urged the new delegates to carry on the policies of their predecessors, and to press for an increase in Government Grants.

The UnVet report, presented by John Pousette, stressed that UnVet was most interested in highly specialized jobs which would pay well. He also stated that UnVet's publicity campaign would soon make Montreal "UnVet Conscious".

The Treasurer, George Hampson, reported that the Society now had $106.46 in the bank, exclusive of funds of the old executive, which have not yet been turned over. $126.28 of this total came from the "Vets' Do", and he particularly thanked Joan Greaves, treasurer of the "Do".

Carabins To Provide Opposition In Model Parliament; Official Custom of Bilingualism Will Be Featured

Students from the University of Montreal will provide "His Majesty's Most Loyal Opposition" at the next Model Parliament which will be held Wednesday, December 11, at 8 p.m. in the Nulion Ballroom.

The Liberals, who will form the Government, have presented a resolution to carry out the Dominion Government proposals of the latest Dominion Provincial Conference.

An as yet unnamed anti-centralist party of U. of M. students will attack these proposals on the ground that they are a menace to Provincial Autonomy. However, Carabins can be found on both sides of the resolution, and the Liberal Government and possibly the other parties will receive support from their ranks.

The steering committee of the Model Parliament, on which the four political clubs are represented, extended this invitation to the U. of M. with two objects in view. Not only do they welcome the Carabins for the distinctive point of view that they can present but they consider that this Model Parliament will provide an opportunity for individual McGill students to meet their fellow students from the other side of the mountain.

A bilingual speaker will be chosen and this Parliament will follow the example of the Dominion Parliament and use both of Canada's official languages.

The C.C.F., L.P.P. and Progressive Conservatives will also be in opposition to the government, although it was learned that the different parties were in favor of certain parts of the resolution. The C.C.F. is expected to base its main attack on the last paragraph of the resolution.

The L.P.P. emphasized that the B.N.A. Act from the very beginning was designed to make Quebec a preserve of low wages, and will propose amendments to alter this situation.

PLAYERS' CLUB PRODUCE SKIT

Play Theme, Crime, Paraletic Old Lady Foils Burglars

Next Monday, at five o'clock, the McGill Players' Club will produce Eugene Pillot's "Two Crooks and a Lady". This is to be the second of the club's Workshop productions for this term, and no admission will be charged.

The play was originally scheduled to be produced last Monday, but was postponed because of an engagement of one member of the cast, which meant that he could not be present.

John Carnwath plays the part of a rough and somewhat unscrupulous burglar, and Doreen Lipik, as the maid, is his accomplice. Nammi Harris enacts the role of Mrs. Simms-Vane, the paralytic lady who foils the crooks' attempts and Jean MacLachlan is her companion.

The play is under the supervision of Kitty Rainey and Bill Whittaker, the club's student directing duo.

The president stated last night that the play will definitely go on this Monday, without any hitches.

Jack Gelineau Newly Elected Team Captain

By ALEC MACINTYRE

(Daily Staff Writer)

As holders of the Thompson Trophy McGill's hockey champs will be out to turn back all challenges this season and to hang on grimly to the Intercollegiate championship. The first of these challenges comes from U. of M's Carabins tomorrow night at Verdun Auditorium.

The University over the hill, disappointed with last year's showing of their Carabins, has gone to great lengths to produce a winning outfit. A new full-time coach has been appointed, the budget increased to supply better equipment and every promising hockeyist on the campus has been given a chance to try out for the senior team.

NINE GAMES IN SERIES

The short schedule, nine games, doesn't favor the Redmen for only four of those games will be played at the Forum, McGill's home ice. Two losses over the season would be enough to put the club out of the running for top honors, which means the McGill must capture at least three games on foreign ice and all home games.

Dave Campbell is particularly anxious to start the year off in the win column and bring his Redmen up on even terms with the arch rivals from Varsity who now hold first place by virtue of their 7-2 win over Queens. McGill will invade the Ontario capital next Friday where they hope to wrest first place from the Blues.

The only major change in the make-up of this year's club is the replacement of the powerful O'Connor-Porteous-Pierson line by a new combination centred by Joe Pettit. Pettit will have Ernie Spiller and Ward Pittfield as his wingmen. Spiller and Pittfield on right.

The Hale brothers and Ref Sinclair start their third season together, the last for George Hale, who graduates next spring. This unit showed great improvement over last year's performance in McGill's one exhibition game at Shawinigan Falls. These three accounted for all McGill's goals.

Bob Broderick will also be playing his last year of hockey for the University. Bob is Dave Campbell's top notch defenceman, who will be aided by two veterans, Gord Goselin and Doug Heron, and one newcomer, Babe Thompson.

McGill Water Poloists to Meet Toronto Here Tomorrow

Favour Red Seven In Opening College Tilt at MAAA Pool

By IAIN FRASER
What McGill Team has won 22 out of a possible 28 Intercollegiate Championships? The answer to this almost unbelievable question is the McGill Senior Water Polo Team. Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock in the M.A.A.A. pool, not only will this year's team be there but ten honorary officials, including Frank McGill and Munroe Bourne, who were instrumental in establishing this wonderful record.

The event will be the big Varsity-McGill Game. A brief look at the records of these two teams this year will explain why this has been called the "Crucial Test of the Year," in the three team league. Three weeks ago the Redmen sunk Queen's by a score of 15 to 2. Last week at Toronto Queen's were again defeated 14 to 2. There was only one goal difference between the Varsity and McGill Teams. This is why the match tomorrow will be a rugged, closely contested contest and will without doubt be a thrilling game to watch especially for those spectators who have never seen Water Polo Game before and do not know the potential crowd pleasing aspects of a close hard-fought match.

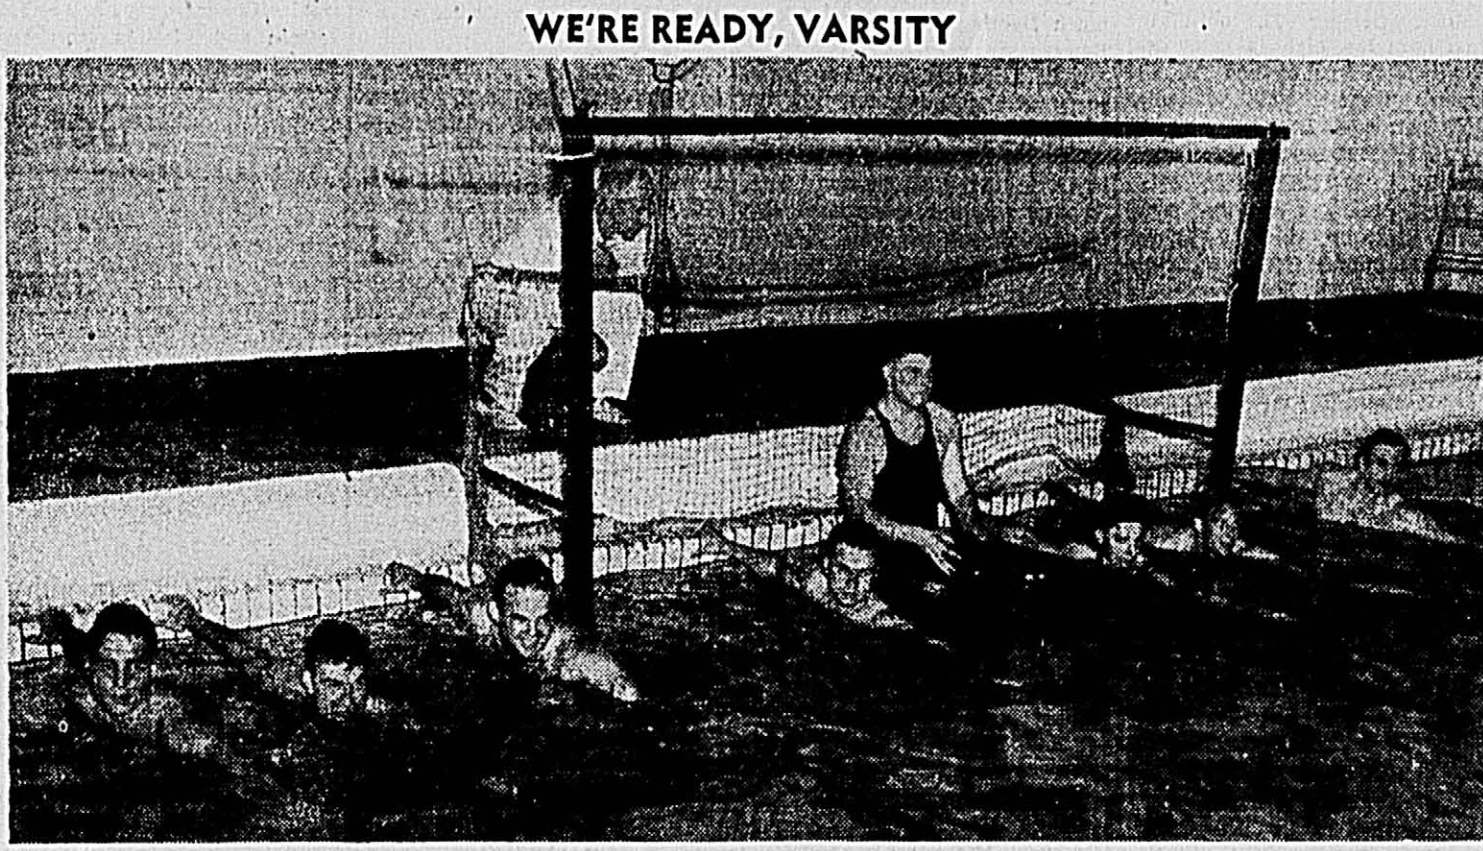

SHORTER POOL
The game will be played in a pool that is 15 feet shorter than the official 75 foot pool. As far as the spectator are concerned this is not a handicap but an asset. The shorter tank allows the players to make a few short passes and then slam the ball into the net from almost the center of the pool.

The McGill Team is presented below:
Dave Townsend — Dave is the captain and goaltender of this year's team. Before McGill he played for the Westmount High Champs.

Jeff Ince — He was the captain of last year's team and played water polo for 4 years in the Barbadoes.

Jerry Cooper — Eight years ago he played on the Junior Dominion Championship MAAA team. Came up from Montreal High.
Art Earl — During the war Art played a lot of water polo in London and played for Dawson College last year.
Arnold Brenhouse — In 1944 Art played on the British Fleet Air Arm team when they were the Champs of Southern England.
Eliot Young — He was the free style champion of Saskatchewan in 1944. This is his third year of water polo for McGill.
Bob Mahon — In '44 he won the Dominion Intermediate Back Stroke Championship. He was the leading scorer for McGill last year.

Clarkson Hoopsters Oppose Red Quintet In Festival Feature

By PERCY TANNENBAUM
(Daily Staff Writer)
It will be Clarkson versus McGill in the main feature of the Athletics Night and it should be quite a corker as far as hoop tilts go. Clarkson got the better of the Red squad in their meeting last season, but to put it in the words of the McGill team, "There'll Be Some Changes Made".

Campus cage circles are quite hepped up about the recent showings of the Davies' Doodlers. The main cause for the warming of our collective hearts has been the strong finish which the local hoopsters have flashed in both games to date something which has been lacking in former seasons. And in the way of additional "Auricle-Kindling" there is the return to war-time form of George Davidson.

Also there are a couple of newcomers who have attracted an appreciable amount of attention. Firstly, there is Myer Bloom, who well illustrates the adage that it is hard to keep a small man down. Myer, the Mighty Mite played an eye-pleasing game on Wednesday to add to the delight of Coach Lou Davies.

Then again, Bobby Duford has been doing all right for himself too. "Duff", the blonde ball-handler may not be playing tomorrow night as he collided with a door (or so he says) but he is expected back shortly if not for Saturday.

This weekend's tilt is the first of a series of cage exhibitions planned for the Redmen as supplements to the regular Intercollegiate schedule, one of the few sports in which this has been done to an appreciable extent. Davies is of the opinion that this is the best way for the fellows to get in playing shape, and is out to make the most of them. Lou intends to give all the aspirants a decent chance to make the grade, and will consequently dress 15 men.

The boys should have plenty of incentive, what with the sweetness of revenge within them to take the sting out of last season's defeat. Also, this will be the first time this semester that there will be a large-enough student attendance to spur the hoopsters on.

From Clarkson comes word that their roster is still dotted with the luminaries of the last few years as well as a handful of potent additions. Familiar names like Bob Wagner, Rudy Cragolin and Don Mulvaney are still present to add to the Redmen's woes, but the ball-handling of these boys is always a treat to watch, if not entirely favourable to the home team's cause.

There are no two ways about it—This, as we said before, is going to be quite a treat.

Two McGill Squash Teams See Action at Home and in Boston

Redmen Oppose Four American Colleges

This weekend, the McGill senior Squash team journeys to New England to play exhibition matches with five American colleges. On Saturday, the five racket-wielding Redmen will be the guests of the Harvard team. The lads from Boston have been famous for two decades for the strength of their teams; and the fact that there are 90 squash courts on the campus gives some idea of how seriously they take the game. Coach Bob Barnaby should have no trouble choosing a strong team to receive the McGill men.

In the gymnasium at Massachusetts Institute of Technology the Redmen will enter in a gruelling tournament with squads from Amherst, Williams and M.I.T. The first two, coached by Frank Gillespie and Clarence Chafee respectively, two of the best professionals in the country, will be teams to be reckoned with, while the M.I.T. men despite the graduation of two of their best players last year can be depended upon to put up a stiff battle.

These matches will mark the inauguration of international intercollegiate squash competition; but the McGill men have no standard of comparison by which to assess their chances.

Second Squad Meet Grads at Athletic Nite

Two harassed little men chased around an enclosed box by a devilish black ball—that's the game of squash, and some people do it for enjoyment.

The McGill "B" squash team will be cleaving the air with their mighty swings at the Athletics Night on Saturday evening as they oppose a team of recent McGill graduates on the courts in the basement of hte gymnasium. Playing for the Redmen will be Al Gillespie, Denis Stairs, Andy Lemesurier, Al Ward and Neil Lau. Leading the Grads into action will be two former members of McGill intercollegiate tennis teams, Pierre Dessault and Tony Wolever. Also appearing will be Jim Coristine, Rod Patch and Wally Markhem.

POPULAR
With the arrival of the cold weather, and the subsequent end of many outdoor sports, squash has become increasingly popular among McGill students. The four singles and one doubles court are in almost constant use nowadays from morning till night, and it has been found necessary to institute a system of court reservations whereby players can sign for a half hour period up to a day in advance.

A player's ladder has been set up, and the results of these individual matches have been largely instrumental in choosing the teams which are competing this weekend.

Be sure to drop down to the squash courts next Saturday at the Athletics Night and watch the Redmen in action. Even if you've never seen a game before, the basic rules are so elementary that you'll have no trouble appreciating its speed and terse excitement.

McGill Wrestlers Face Williams College Squad; Boxers, Local Fighters Clash in BWF Room

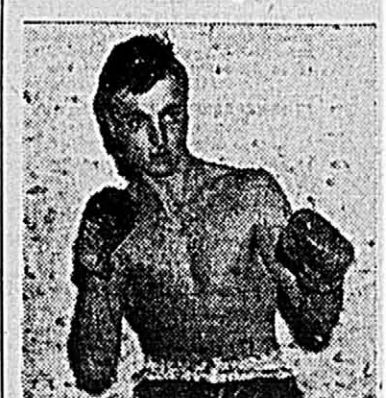

By LARRY SIROTA
(Daily Staff Writer).

The B.W.F. room will be a beehive of activity this Saturday afternoon when both the McGill Wrestling and Boxing teams take on their toughest opposition to date commencing at 8 p.m. sharp. For the five men grapple artists, a quintet of Williams College men have been secured, while for the fistic five, top-notch city club amateurs will be climbing through the ropes to offer the Redmen their opposition. The wrestling bouts will be of a ten-minute duration each, the man with the most falls or points being declared the winner. On the other hand, three gruelling three-minute rounds will be the scheduled distance for the pugilists.

Williams Tough
The Intercollegiate champion Red grunt and groaners may have bitten off more than they can chew in lining up against the formidable Williams representatives, as this is the first formal competition for the matmen, while the American boys have already tasted action in a number of exhibition matches south of the border, and are reputed to be the pick of the eastern universities. However, in Raymond, Sabbath, Stafford, McLeod and Captain Kowal, coach Saxon has the best squad ever assembled at McGill. These boys have plenty of experience, speed and ability, plus that immeasurable factor called fight. The McGillians will be going all out to win so that they can serve notice to their Canadian opponents that they aim to retain mat supremacy for the coming year.

HOOP-LA

Intermediates Meet U of Ottawa In Cage Tilt Saturday Afternoon

Ronnie Rutherford's rambling hoopsters rumble into the Currie gymnasium on Saturday afternoon to tangle with the maroon and white of the University of Ottawa. The game is slated to commence at 2.00 p.m., and the Redmen are out to chalk up their second triumph of the season.

The Capitol boys have always produced a powerful squad, and this year's representation is reputed to be superior to the quintet which bore the Ottawa banners last season. Last year Father Marcoux's boys defeated the Dawson Intermediate A team in both games of a home and home series, and last year's Dawsonites were no pushovers—being edged out in the MBL Intermediate Finals by the Georgians. If these Ottawotians could defeat Gerry Leonard's boys, they are nothing to be sneezed at.

MCGILL 12

To oppose this formidable array of facts, bolstered by as formidable an array of players, the rah-rah-rah boys of McGill will depend on 12 men. This is more than the number usually carried at MBL games, but, notwithstanding the fact that the season is well underway, the squad is not definitely set as yet. However, a number of men have been dropped since last week, and a few have been added from the group of prospective senior intercollegiate hoopsters.

Among the red-jerseyed players will be Tommy Eio of last year's Senior Sir George Williams bunch. He will not be the only ex-Senior carrying the torch for McGill, but will be supplemented by Harry Dikolsky, who has played on more than one Senior team in the past several years, and who did some spectacular ball-stealing at MacDonald last week. Another ex-senior is Lou Zalkind, of the 1945-46 Seniors.

Together with these seasoned players, will be a number of men who played Intermediate basketball in the past few seasons. There is Lanier, lone survivor of last year's McGill Intermediates and Ingham, who played for the Inter in the schedule stretching through 1943-1944. Also, there is Hayward, first string guard on the Dawson team last year, and Dougherty, who centred the second line against Ottawa boys last December 8th, at St. Johns.

GELINEAU
Jack Gelineau, who is showing himself to be quite an all-round athlete will prep for his goaling duties against U. of M. Saturday night by playing basketball in the afternoon. Together with these will be R. Hodge, S. Evans, R. D. Moffat, and Hugh Cameron. All have shown up well in practice, and Cameron received his coaching from Lou Davies last year, but that was when wearing the colours of Westmount High.

Basketball enthusiasts who won't get enough of the game against Clarkson Saturday night, can be promised a close, well-played match in the afternoon.
Art Shama, Intermediate manager, requests any of the above players who are unable to play for any reason whatsoever to contact him.

Split Decision Is Given in Foil Match

Inter Club Fencing competition for the 1946-47 season got underway Thursday evening when McGill played host to Les Mousquetaires from Palestre Nationale. About 40 spectators were on hand to watch some very interesting bouts. In the ladies foil Adoree LeBrooy of McGill was the star of the evening by winning all her bouts. Although the final total scores were close McGill scored lost to Mousquetaires by one bout and scored only 29 hits to Mousquetaires 23. Participating were: McGill: Mary Lee Fetherstonhaugh; Adoree LeBrooy; June Organ; Mousquetaires: Yvette Pauze; Madeleine Huberdeau and Yolande LaPlante.

Displaying superior skill in duelling sword Les Mousquetaires trimmed McGill by winning 7 bouts, nullifying 2 thereby making an easy victory in gaining 16 points to McGill's 2. Participants for Mousquetaires were Louis Asselin; Rene T. Armand; Emile Miron while McGill was represented by Mike Ellwood; Andrew Esfakis and Bob Moffatt.

More successful in the foil bouts McGill won over Mousquetaires 6 bouts to 3 but by a narrow margin in points scoring only 36 hits against Mousquetaires with 32 points scored against them. Mousquetaires team was composed of Sylvio DeCoursey, Roland Asselin, Emile Miron and for McGill Peter Eakins, George Pouliot and Len Druckman.

Following the meet McGill entertained the visitors who will be back in the near future for further competitions.

I.A.C. Passes Rule Changes, Plan Hockey

A record attendance at the Intramural Athletic Council meeting on Thursday at the Gymnasium was made with the following present: Jas. Peers, chairman, Commerce; Sherwin Raymond, Medicine; Geo. Schneider, Engineering; Louis Fournier, Phys. Ed.; Jack Roy, Law; Jack Rogers, Arts & Science; Vic. Harwood, Grads; Louis Lahier, Intramural basketball manager; Hay Finlay, secretary.

Changes were made in the eligibility rules of the Intramural set-up to permit any student who had previously won a first grade letter in any sport, so that he would play in Intramural sport if he was not at the present time a member of any representative team in that sport. It was also decided to organize an Interclass Hockey League with games to be played on the Campus Rink, and that this would be followed by an Interfaculty League after the Interclass League was finished. Hockey sticks will be purchased by the Council for sale at wholesale rates to the managers of the teams entered.

A change was made in the ruling for postmortems so that 24 instead of 48 hours would be required from any team before the penalty was incurred of defaulting the game with the consequent loss of 10 points in the Intramural standing.

The Secretary reported that all the available hours are being used with a great deal of congestion in some departments showing a revival of interest in the whole Intramural.

6 Interclass Cage Tussles Yesterday Eve

Six Interclass basketball games were played last night, and two more on Wednesday eve. The games were hard-fought and quite close on the whole, and were characterized by extremely strict refereeing.

At 5:15, the boys of Arts 4 defeated the Med 3 squad 28-20, in an upset victory according to the men on the rail. The Meds had a number of the players who represented Med 2 against Dawson College Intermediates last year, and almost won. However, the fast breaks of Johnny Piper, who racked up 22 of the 28 points for the winners, set the doctors down to defeat.

Meanwhile, Eng. 4 won by default over BSc 4, but had the wind taken out of their sails by being defeated by a pick-up squad in a practice game. On the far court, Commerce 2A edged out Eng 3A 28-25. The losers missed two of their 3 free throws, either of which would have tied up the game. Wolvin chalked up 14 points for the winners, while Wolfe led the losers with 10.

At 6:00 o'clock, Phys Ed 11 doubled the Dawson Dodgers BSc 2 aggregation by a score of 35-17. McIlveen accounted for 20 points for the phys-eds, while Cohen made 10 for the Dodgers. Most of the gym-teachers' points were made on pivots under the basket which the Science defence seemed unable to stop.

The BSc faculty made a clean sweep of losing all of their games when Eng 11B defeated BSc 3 29-13. The high scorer here was Gauthier, with 12 points for the engineers.

The other game last night saw the green-clad dentistry entry defeat Med 11 17-10. Scoring was divided evenly among most of the players.

On Wednesday evening, Dentistry defeated Eng 2C 20-9, while Med 1 edged out Eng 2B 12-9.

International Student Service announced the average daily calorie consumption of students in Greece is 970, Germany 900-1,500, Austria 760, compared with 3,300 calories in Canada and the minimum healthful diet of 2,000 calories.

Floor Hockey Schedule Ends At St. Johns

By JOHN E. GRIFFIN

Last night, the regular schedule of the Dawson Floor Hockey League came to a close after six hectic weeks of activity. More than a month will pass before the playoffs begin in January.

To those familiar with the sports setup at Dawson, nothing need be said regarding the game's popularity here this fall. From the opening whistle, October 28, until the final horn last night, a great deal of attention was focused on the popular pastime. Next to senior basketball it has been the most important sport at Dawson this year.

29 TEAMS
The League was composed of 29 teams, averaging about 13 players; the total number of participants was well over 350. For a campus of approximately 1,400 students, this was considered a surprisingly large number.

"Equally brow-raising was the fact that some games drew as many as 300 spectators."

The teams are divided into six leagues, and the one-two squads in each group will go on to the playoffs. For those who didn't make the grade, there is nothing left but memories of the gruelling, smashing battles of the past six weeks.

The short season was replete with thrills, surprises and disappointments. The boys will remember the play of such teams as the Alkies and Commercial, and the heavy body-checking of the Brochie-McCarrell combination and of Miro "Rocket" Bozich. But what they'll remember most is the enthusiasm with which everyone played the game—win, lose or draw. Even in floor hockey Dawson has maintained its reputation of a high standard of sportsmanship.

Insofar as the success of the venture is concerned, Em Orlick believes that credit should go where credit is due, and expresses his appreciation to Jack Goldwater. "Genial Jack" was the founder of the league and was out there running the show till it was all over.

Eight Girls Remaining In Coed Badminton

The coed intersection badminton which has been under way for the last two weeks, has now reached the quarter finals. The eight girls remaining in the running are P. A. Macfarlane, W. McEment, C. Horsborough, B. Evans, A. Fleming, A. Merston, L. Macfarlane and M. Macfarlane. These will be seeded and redrawn for the finish of the tourney.

In the above list it may be noted that section D outnumbered the other sections and it will take a lot of effort and skillful playing to oust them from this favored position. Section D is already leading with 30 points through winning six games in the first round; while sections E and H are tied with 25 points each. The winner of the tournament gains 30 points for her section and the runner-up 20.

Through the efforts of International Student Service, 180 Greek women students who had suffered the hardships of both an aggressive and a civil war were sent to the summer camp of Moni Pendeli for recuperation.

Max Horngacher, Hungarian representative of International Student Service reports from Yugoslavia that 72 out of 180 scientific institutes were destroyed in the war.

DAWSON ONCE . . .

By Bob Usher

Hugh Purdy, McGill grad and M. B. L. star while playing under the Red and White, was out at Dawson last night wearing the Migo colours. In the dressing room after the contest which Migos lost 34-29, Purdy was heard appraising the Red and Blue team before Em Orlick: "I have been playing basketball for nearly fifteen years," said the experienced hooper, "but never in my whole career have I met or played against a team with so much fighting spirit as has your Dawson squad."

This aggregation whose praise Hugh was chanting was not the McGill-Dawson player mixture which has previously hit the floor, but a revamped, all-Dawson bunch. Another feature of the squad is that all the players are vets, most of them just getting out of the services this year.

SWIMMERS
Something that isn't very well known around here is the fact that we have in our midst, out at Dawson, some of the best swimmers in this part of the country. Tops among these fellows is Normie Ashton, former Dominion Champion. Star-studded the list are John Smith, our Intermediate rugby player of not so many weeks back who is up from Jamaica, Bill Errington, also of rugby fame, and Stan Christie. The latter two come to Dawson from Ridley College. Also out here this year is Don Imrie whom many of you will remember as the star backstroke for the McGill team last season.

These fellows and many more who have had previous competitive swimming experience will be given tickets to the Central "Y" in Montreal where they will practice and later on be picked for McGill teams. Any other who have had experience and have not already signed up are requested to do so immediately by Em Orlick at his office.

Hockey flashes . . . Seeing the Athletics staff and many helpers bundled up in their winter woollies reminds us that the freezing of the rink is coming along well, and with any aid from the weather at all the skaters will be out by next week. This rushed affair didn't come off by itself. Could the reason for those bags under the eyes of John Bagley and Dave Harvie be from an all-night vigil on the rink until 6:30 a.m.?

However the ice gets there, it will soon be down.

This means that all erstwhile puck chasers had better bring out their equipment over the weekend. Coach Phil Henry has drawn up plans to condition all hockey prospects indoors until they can take to the ice.

Plans are going ahead well for increased activity and there are good chances of having a two-team entry in the local St. Johns League.

Flags and Flushes

by Schuss

Looking through the ski files the other day, I found some interesting information.

On September 10, the president of the Red Birds received an invitation from Mr. Bernard Rufenacht, president of the Swiss Academic Ski Club, to send a team of Canadian students to participate in their academic ski competitions toward the end of Feb. or the beginning of March. The complete expenses, including a coach would be paid by the Swiss Ski Club for as long as our team decided to stay. An American team was also invited. For various reasons, we had to decline the magnificent offer but in return, invited a Swiss Team to participate in our I.S.U. Championships February 28 and March 1. We have so far had no answer. I sincerely hope that someday we may be in a position to accept such an invitation as has been done in the past.

ANOTHER INVITATION

On October 2, McGill received an invitation from the Sno Birds of Lake Placid to send down a team for their annual meet late in December or early in January—of course, we had to refuse this also because it unfortunately conflicted with our exam schedule.

October 25 we accepted an invitation to attend the first Dartmouth Carnival since 1941. A six-man team will venture forth from McGill February 14, 15, and 16, including jumpers, downhill, slalom and cross country men.

November 18, we accepted an invitation to the Annual Winter Carnival at Middlebury, to be held January 23 to 25. McGill will again send a six-man team. All expenses are paid by Middlebury after our team gets there.

All in all, it looks like a busy winter for McGill Skiers and more invitations are expected shortly. The same men will not necessarily represent McGill at all these meets. In fact it would probably be a far better policy all around if different men were chosen. However, we will see who the best men are when the ski competitions start in the Laurentians, and the teams will be selected on that basis.

Get daily shaves in comfort

SPECIAL SHAVING PREPARATION PROTECTS YOUR SKIN

Not greasy—No brush needed

FOR men with tender skin, daily shaving can be a source of painful irritation. Yet modern life demands that many men must shave every day.

It was to help solve this problem that The J. B. Williams Company perfected Glider. A rich, soothing shaving cream, Glider is like a "vanishing cream"—it's not sticky or greasy.

Easy to use

In using Glider, first wash your face thoroughly with soap and hot water to remove grit and oil from the skin that collect on whiskers every 24 hours. Then spread on Glider quickly and easily with your fingers—never a brush.

Instantly, Glider smooths down the flaky top layer of your skin. It enables the razor's sharp edge to glide over the face; cutting off each completely softened whisker at the skin-line without scraping or irritation.

Eliminates danger of frequent shaving

For men who shave daily—businessmen; lawyers; doctors; servicemen and others—Glider is invaluable. It saves time and fuss . . . and eliminates the dangers frequent shaving may have for the tender skin. It leaves your face feeling smoother; looking cleaner.

Glider was developed by the J. B. Williams Company; makers of fine shaving preparations for over 100 years.

$400 Is Collected by Energetic Whittall of Dawson for Campaign

By STAN MANN
We set out in search of Boyd Whittall to discover how donations for the Rink-Auditorium Campaign were coming along, and to speak to the boy who by himself had collected 200 dollars by Wednesday evening. Behind the counter of the Dawson Book Room, busily engaged in guiding the trembling hand of a contributor, was the object of our search. When asked as to the amount of donations on hand, he modestly informed the astounded Daily reporters that the figures in his little black book totalled 400 dollars (a sum which by now is greatly augmented.) Look him up and down as much as you will, and he still remains only one person; one person with the initiative to extract four hundred dollars from Dawson students!

Boyd graduated from Sedbergh School in Montebello, P.Q., and enrolled in the science course at Dawson. He takes an active part in campus activities, and is often seen running about at a mad pace from one meeting to another.

An expert skier, he has indulged in competition in the Ottawa area and at Montebello, and hopes to compete this year with the Dawson team. If on some cold night a figure is seen charging around the campus exhaling clouds of misty breath, it's only Boyd getting into condition.

Word has it that Whittall set up shop at the dance door last Wednesday night and really went out after contributors who were being backward in coming forward with the cold hard cash. All the way along the uphill fight, he has reasoned out many an ingenious method of countering the arguments of reluctant donors.

Reporter Remarks Radio Rage; Junior's Jingles Jangle Gently

By NORM DEPOE
(Varsity Staff) C.U.P.

We don't know whether any child psychologist has investigated the effect of radio jingles on the pre-school child but it is time something was done about it. Only yesterday, just after we had answered a request for the time, our son chimed in to finish the scene by lisping uncertainly, "Bulova on your wrist, as on the air, faithful forever."

This is not all. We have to report that his musical taste is in danger of being permanently arrested between "supersuds" and "Oxydol sparkle." (Or as a possible variant, "okee-doke sparkle." He recently picked up a variant down the street and seems to think it has a future in radio.)

It started way back last spring when we were taking a street-car ride together. Our son, having tied our tie to his satisfaction, wiped his shoes on our trousers, and shown the conductor that he was not living in a competition-free world by bawling "Bloor Street! Everybody better get off!" at intervals, finally appeared to have settled down, temporarily at least. We gave vent to a relieved sigh and returned to the March, 1933, issue of the Reader's Digest, which had somehow found its way into our pocket. We became quite interested in an article, pausing only occasionally to deliver the mechanical, "Yes, I see," which is the stock-in-trade of all parents, and which seems to pacify the young when they say something. Much of their conversation, we have learned is merely a means of practicing newly acquired words and almost any answer will do because they are only going to say the same thing over again. After a while, even the demands that we look at cars parked on the street, subsided and we got more deeply immersed in our article. A peculiar low chant was coming from the offspring, forming a not unpleasant accompaniment to the assorted rattlings and clankings of the car. Gradually, however, as he became more sure of the words, it rose in volume and began to imprint itself on our consciousness.

Leaflet Raid Increases Call For UniVets

First results of the leaflet "raid" on Montreal are coming in to the UniVet office in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

A few hours after the flight, a call came in for a part-time truck driver at 75 cents an hour. The employer had caught a UniVet leaflet out of the air. Other telephone calls revealed that UniVet leaflets had landed in a stream on a nearby school yard. Children grabbed them up, took them home to mother.

UniVet members, already registered and classified under different job headings, are getting the best jobs as they come in.

Student veterans are asked to register immediately with UniVet Enterprises. The job headings on the questionnaire are only suggestions. Vets should list special capabilities and full details on the type of work they would like during the summer. The back of the questionnaire can be used for this purpose.

Veterans to Write Finals in December

That special December examinations are final examinations for veterans completing a year in the Faculty of Arts and Science was announced yesterday by Dr. Hatcher, Assistant Dean.

In his statement, Dr. Hatcher pointed out that those veterans who entered in May or are required to write the exams as supplementals fall into the group who will write these special final exams.

Also made known was the fact that veterans who entered the university in October will write the regular January mid-term exams. All courses with January or May examinations will continue until Friday, Dec. 6.

Dr. Hatcher asks all Montreal Arts and Science students in doubt about the exams, they must write to consult him, while those at Dawson should see Prof. Craig.

Dress Declared Optional; To Sell Tickets at Door; Contributions Still Needed

Medicine, Engineering Top Donors

By EDWIN ROSET

With the announcement last night that the Rink-Auditorium Campaign would be continued into next week, plans were completed for the "Non-Prom" Dance, being held to-night in the Union Ballroom.

DRESS OPTIONAL

Originally planned as a semi-formal dance for those students and friends who were unable to attend the Junior Prom, the dance has now been declared open to all students, dress being optional. Tickets at $1.50 a couple will be sold at the door.

RUNS 9-1

A new organization of musicians, Archie Etienne's orchestra, some of them McGill students, will be on hand to supply appropriate dancing rhythms. Scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., the dance will run four hours and refreshments will be made available.

MEFS, PLUMBERS LEAD

"Medicine and Engineering, besides being the so-called 'hardest worked group on the campus' can now claim the right to the title of the most spirited faculties, in so far as backing the campaign. Medicine tops all faculties with 46 per cent of the Meds considering the rink-auditorium a must on McGill's list of needed facilities. Engineering follows with 38 per cent of the plumbers paying in part for the concrete that will be poured.

Although it has been announced that the campaign will be extended, canvassers have been requested by the chairman to bring all receipts collected to date to the registrar's office between 1 and 6 p.m. today. This is being done since plans for next week will be based on the total contributions.

An appeal has been sent out to all students to rally to the cause by handing in a donation at the wicket in the registrar's office this afternoon.

Every Student ...should answer these questions:

"How SOON do I need to have life insurance?" In most cases the answer is: just as soon as you are earning. Mutual Life of Canada Life insurance is SAVINGS... PLUS low-cost maximum protection for those dependent on you, now or in the future. Remember that the earlier you start your Mutual Life insurance program, the easier it will be for you to carry... "Does it matter WHICH life insurance company I choose?" It does! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of our policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life of Canada, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from our policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

Studies are well aware of this handicap and allow for it, small though experience shows it to be. In neither Faculty is admission "dependent" (to use Mr. Forchheimer's word) on performance in this examination; the Graduate Record report is merely one of the pieces of evidence examined when admissibility is under consideration. It is not a pass or fail examination; it ranks the applicant's general educational level in competition with fellow-students here and elsewhere, and is especially valuable because it is not influenced by the vagaries of marking standards which may characterize an individual professor or a whole institution. I do not think Mr. Forchheimer is wise in suggesting that a similar examination should be constructed for use in Canada; it would take years to determine the normal performance of students of different types in a new test, while this basic exploration is now complete for the Graduate Record Examination. Moreover, one of the advantages of the present examination is that it may facilitate the entry of Canadian students into medical schools or graduate schools in the United States.

Yours very truly,

his pants began to burn.
Though driven to distraction by the smouldering trousers he was afraid to leave for fear that he would never again be invited to play, and in his confusion he bid a grand slam. Much to everyone's amazement (and especially his) he made it. He was a campus hero. His name appeared in the Daily which naturally made him a B.M.O.C. (Big Man On Campus). Now he was invited to play bridge at all times of the day and night. He was supremely happy and considered himself a success in life.

College has instituted a comprehensive counselling and testing scheme during the greatest expansion that it has ever experienced. The University of Montreal has just recently established a clinic to which any student can go to get advice on vocational and personal problems. In the Westmount High School a trained worker in this field has been there ever since 1935, and is now a permanent member of the staff. The rest of the schools under the Protestant School Board for Montreal are introducing such services. In fact, every major educational institution, with the possible exception of the Catholic Schools, has counselling and psychometric testing, except McGill. Why does such a situation exist?
It cannot be because of the great influx of students, for that only makes the problem even more urgent; also if Sir George Williams College, with all its disadvantages, can find a way, why can't McGill. It is not for lack of trained personnel, for there is a Psychology Department here, and even if the professors were too busy, much of the work would afford wonderful training to students of psychology. The usefulness of such a program cannot be denied, and surely the expense is not the factor when McGill can plan to spend nine million dollars on buildings.
To summarize, a problem exists, namely that of students choosing their courses wisely, and adjusting normally to life so that he can study effectively. There is a good solution to this problem in having trained specialists in guidance who use interviews and psychological tests as a means of giving reliable information and help to the student. Please do not misunderstand our proposals, we are not suggesting that McGill set up a social security scheme complete with a mental hospital. Rather we would like to see a system that would arrest any dangerous developments or advise the student seeing a psychiatrist where necessary, as along with a general program to help the normal student choose his courses when he is in doubt. We feel that such means

Just about the toughest match of the evening has been offered Johnny Piper, but the McGill lad showed no reluctance in signing up for Troughton, the windmill boxer from the east end. Troughton doesn't give his opponent much chance to get set, being on top of his opponent most of the time, while 'Pipe' is the Castilloux-type cutie, relying on a flicking left and a right cross to do the damage.

At a meeting of the Dawson Camera Club held last night two committees were elected, a purchasing committee consisting of Jan Mauer, Kurt Gottfried, and Dave Simon, which will be responsible for the purchase of equipment and a darkroom committee, which will be responsible for fitting up the darkroom located behind the library in Dawson Hall. On this committee are Messrs. Lowden, Hayes, Aikman, Mauer, Simon, and Beamish. The thirty-five members present unanimously voted to charge a membership fee of $2.00 to help defray the cost of purchase and installation.

It won't be long now before you will see those camera fiends recording the rugged face of Dawson for future generations. Already, it is rumoured, they have been requested to look after all the athletics photographs of Dawson for the Annual.

Housing of Students Is University Issue
The great influx of veterans to the Universities, particularly in the past year, has brought into focus the whole question of housing for students attending McGill. With the housing crisis as it exists today, student accommodation, in the past considered a private matter, has become recognized as the responsibility of University and Government authorities, as well as that of student government itself.

The Housing Panel of N.F.C.U.S. set itself the following tasks:
(a) To survey the housing accommodation afforded by the University, and all the ways in which students are housed, how much they pay, how the various student residences are operated, etc.; (b) To establish statistically the proportion of students at McGill living away from home; (c) To draw conclusions from the facts obtained and to make proposals for immediate and long term plans, and action.

The report, conclusions and proposals will be used by the McGill delegation to the N.F.C.U.S. conference.
In addition the Students Council has shown particular interest in the forthcoming report of the Housing Panel, and this report and recommendations when complete will be submitted for consideration, and may well serve as the starting point for Student Council action on housing.
